HUNGARORING

Welcome to Budapest!

I am pleased to welcome you to the capital of Hungary. Budapest's tourism indicators have been sharply increasing since 2010; during this time period, the number of visitors to the capital city increased by half. The Hungarian capital city has been moving up the rankings of international protocol lists with regard to livability, safety, the city's functioning and transport alike.

Hungary and Budapest are much safer than several Western countries and major cities that are affected by terrorism; a recent analysis of the British Foreign Office lists Hungary as one of the 10 safest tourist destinations. However, Budapest is a lot more than a safe and predictable destination; it is the most exciting, colourful and vibrant city in the region, and offers some kind of attraction to each and every visitor.

Capital city tourism received a great boost in 2017, when Budapest had the opportunity to organise the FINA Water World Championships, which attracted almost 400,000 people to Budapest altogether. Budapest's natural beauty, architectural heritage, world-famous spas, unique cultural events and the revived Hungarian gastronomy attract many visitors to the city.

The Budapest Guide introduces these sights and places of interest for tourists by providing maps, descriptions and useful information. Our aim is to attract more and more visitors to the Hungarian capital, and we would like to persuade tourists to stay longer and return to us more frequently.

I hope that this publication will be useful for you. Have a good time in Budapest, and do share your good memories with others as well!

Tarlós István

1 Fill in the reverse side of the card with a ballpoint pen. The starting date of the validity should be indicated with numbers in the following order: month, day, hour. Corrected cards are not valid; if the card is filled in incorrectly, a replacement card can be requested at the following BUDAPESTINFO Point: 1052 Budapest, Sütő utca 2. (Opening hours: between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.).

2 Only signed cards are valid; the name of the card user should be entered in the signature field. The card is a registered card for one person and it is not transferable to another person.

3 Register your card on the website <http://budapestcard.city-pay.hu/registration/index.html>, and we will give you another one free of charge if it is stolen/lost!

4 When you use the card, the places and the service providers which accept the card check the hand-written date on the back of the card and the NFC chip in the card. You should always emphasise when you start to use a particular service that you would like to use your BUDAPEST CARD.

5 Depending on its type, the card is valid for 24 / 48 / 72 / 96 / 120 hours from its first use.

where it's good to know the answer

- 1 Where can I purchase the BUDAPEST CARD?
  - 2 Is the BUDAPEST CARD valid for 1/2/3/4/5 calendar days?
  - 3 Who can use the 72-hour Junior BUDAPEST CARD?
  - 4 Are Hop on Hop off buses public transport vehicles?
  - 5 Is the BUDAPEST CARD valid for the Funicular?
  - 6 Is the BUDAPEST CARD valid if I travel to Szentendre using the HÉV suburban railway?
  - 7 Is a pre-registration necessary for any of the services?
  - 8 In which language do you offer free guided sightseeing walks?
  - 9 Is it possible that the opening hours or the ticket prices in the Budapest Guide are not accurate?
  - 10 Can unused BUDAPEST CARDS be redeemed?
  - 11 Why is it worth registering the purchased BUDAPEST CARD?
- 1 Via the website www.budapestinfo.hu in the BUDAPESTINFO POINT and at more than 300 reseller partners!
  - 2 The BUDAPEST CARD is always valid for 24/48/72/96/120 hours from its first use.
  - 3 Children and teens between 6 and 18. In order to use the services, the card holder should present an identification card which proves their age, and service providers are entitled to check this. Discounts are deducted from the 'full-price tickets'.
  - 4 Hop on Hop off buses are operated by private companies, and BUDAPEST CARD owners can purchase tickets for them at a discount.
  - 5 No, a separate ticket must be purchased for it.
  - 6 The BUDAPEST CARD offers free public transport services within the administrative boundaries of the capital; outside the city you need to buy a supplementary ticket.
  - 7 Services for which a pre-registration is necessary are indicated.
  - 8 In English.
  - 9 The editing process of the Budapest Guide was closed on 1 March 2018, so BFTK Nonprofit Kft. cannot be held liable for any possible changes that have been introduced by our service provider partners after this date.
  - 10 The card cannot be redeemed, even if it has not been used. If it has not been used, it can be used for your next visit to Budapest until 31.03.2019.
  - 11 If the card is stolen or lost, we provide you with a replacement card containing the unused services within the validity period of the original card.

CHAIN BRIDGE

📍 16 105

INFO

Budapest, Lánchíd

Széchenyi Chain Bridge was the first permanent bridge across the section of the Danube in Hungary. Since then, it has become a permanent feature of postcards, films and the 200 forint coin. On the Buda side, it leads to Clark Ádám Square, where the Buda Castle Funicular runs up to Buda Castle Palace, while on the Pest side it leads to Széchenyi István Square and the glorious Hotel Gresham Palace. It frequently features in races, cultural programmes and parades. Every year, thousands of balloons turn the bridge pink on World Breast Cancer Day.

TUNNEL, 0 KILOMETRE STONE

📍 16 105

INFO

1013 Budapest, Clark Ádám tér

The 350-metre long tunnel under the Buda Castle was finished in 1865, based on the plans of Adam Clark. Its Eastern gate was built in eclectic-classicist style, and its Western gate was destroyed during the war but re-built in 1949. The 0 kilometre stone, which was designed by Miklós Borsos, can be found on the square in front the Tunnel, signalling the starting point of the main roads out of Budapest. The three-metre tall limestone sculpture forms a regular typographical 0.

BUDA CASTLE

INFO

www.budavar.hu

The Castle District is home to countless medieval monuments and residential and public buildings constructed in the 17th and the 18th centuries. Its three main sections are the Palace, Szent György Square and the historical residential quarter. Thanks to its spacious squares and romantic atmosphere, it hosts a variety of events throughout the year, including the Festival of Folk Arts, the Wine Festival and the Palace Concerts.

SÁNDOR PALACE

This Neo-classicist structure was built in 1806 after the plans of Mihály Pollack and Viennese architect Johann Aman. The reliefs of the facade, the work of Bavarian sculptor Anton Kirchmayer, represent the gods of Olympus, the knighting of the Sándor counts, and the dance of the muses. The palace serves as the official residence of Hungary's president, and is open to visitors on selected summer weekends.

PARLIAMENT

The Hungarian Parliament, richly decorated both inside and out, was inspired by the Houses of Parliament in London, thus it was designed in Neo-Gothic style, although it also bears Renaissance and Baroque stylistic flourishes. The third largest parliament in the world, it was built on the 1000th anniversary of the foundation of the state of Hungary. During the 45–50 minute tour of Parliament, visitors are shown the session chamber of the Upper House, the lounge of the Upper House, Dome Hall – including the Hungarian royal crown and coronation regalia – as well as the ornamented staircase covered with red carpet.

The exhibition 'A new world was born – Europe's fraternal war 1914-1918' presents, in a nearly 600m<sup>2</sup> area, the world of the Great War, considered the end of an era and the beginning of a new one. The exhibition brings the horrors of war closer to the people of today with the help of unique visual solutions: the all-consuming, total destruction is displayed as a steaming black swamp while the brutal massacre is represented with an abattoir. Visitors can explore a trench and face the mass-mobilisation effect of propaganda as well. The exhibition 'The Warlords' tries to show the rulers of former dynasties, the powerful politicians and the dominant personalities of the era.

The Budapest Summer Festival, organized on the open-air stages at Margaret Island and Városmajor, is the longest and most multicultural festival in the country, offering more than 100 programmes (opera, musicals, ballet, theatre, children's theatre, jazz, world and classical music) for all age groups from June to August.

MARGARET ISLAND OPEN-AIR STAGE

The country's oldest and most attractive open-air theatre, with seating for 2,700, welcomes audiences for 12 weekends from June until the end of August. Its 5-star super productions, featuring world stars, come in a variety of genres: opera and musical programmes, dance performances, spectacular shows, jazz, world music, classical and crossover concerts. It is well worth taking advantage of the 'Színházi' (Theatre) boat transfer service that docks at the stage's private mooring.

BORKONYHA

The place, which is functioning as a restaurant and a wine bar as well, is a combination of a French bistro, a Hungarian family restaurant, a professional wine shop, and a bar. The selection includes 200 wines, mostly Hungarian ones. The dishes are based on fresh and daily purchased ingredients, as well as diversity. Chef Ákos Sárközy gains inspiration from Transylvanian cuisine, but he is also keen on other countries' ingredients, for example Spain, France and Italy. The dishes are rich in flavours; the wine selection is wide and flexible, and the service is personal and friendly. No wonder that Borkonyha received a Michelin star in 2014.

ONYX

The rendezvous between tradition and evolution in the heart of Budapest. Since its opening in 2007, the Onyx restaurant has been dedicated to quality and progress. The Hungarian owners of the restaurant work with a team of mainly self-educated people, and the focus is on national ingredients of high quality, as well as a matching Hungarian wine selection. Chef Ádám Mészáros offers a gastronomic journey which includes renewed Hungarian cuisine and international flavours. It is proven by the qualification of the Gault Millau restaurant guide and the Michelin star won in 2011 that the path we selected is right.

The history of the New York Café, which is more than 120 years old, has become one with literature. The place, which is also known as the "most beautiful café in the world", has survived several eras, several political systems and major changes in history, and it has always revived. And it has always been a perfect choice for artists, who long for convenience and a cosy atmosphere, and of course for ordinary people as well. Nowadays the situation is the same: the marvellous building, which was rebuilt by the Boscolo Group, means the same in the 21st century as in the world which used to be more receptive to beauty: the most beautiful café in the world, in Budapest!

It is perhaps the best ruin pub in Budapest, a legend, which is as famous as the Parliament, Heroes' Square and the Fishermen's Bastion altogether. It really should not be missed. After it outgrew its home in Nagymező utca, it moved to another location in the middle of March. It has increased the number of its dance floors and counters, it astonishes its guests from all over the world with its surrealistic decoration, and it offers acoustic concerts in the afternoon, as well as hardcore techno music until the morning every day. In addition to Instant, you can also choose Liebling, LARM and UnderWelt, so altogether 8 bars, 4 dance floors and a restaurant make your entertainment complete!

KAZINCZY UTCA

INFO

1075 Budapest,
Kazinczy utca

Kazinczy utca is the busiest and a quite narrow street in the Jewish Quarter. The synagogue in Kazinczy utca, which was built in Art Nouveau style, and the Hungarian Museum of Electrical Engineering can both be found here, but the ruin pub revolution of recent years has also started here in 2004 with Szimpla Kert. The street, which is as narrow as a car, hosts streetfood bistros such as Bors and Karaván, but traditional Jewish gastronomy is also represented here in a classic restaurant environment, for example in Macesz Bistro. A row of little pubs, ruin pubs and clubs is lined up along Kazinczy utca: Ellátó Kert, Mika Tivadar Mulató, Méter, and of course Szimpla Kert.

ESZTERGOM

INFO

If you have more time to spend in Budapest, it is worth devoting a few hours to visiting nearby towns such as Esztergom, which can be reached by boats that depart from the Vigadó Square landing stage. The Esztergom Basilica is Europe's Third-largest church, a treasure chest of Renaissance relics. When weather permits the use of the Cupola Lookout, it is well worth climbing the 400 steps for the view.

SZENTENDRE

Lying at the gate of the Danube Bend, this small town with a Mediterranean atmosphere owes its colourful character to the different quarters of the ethnic groups that settled here over the centuries. Devote an afternoon to the Open-Air Museum (skansen), which represents rural Hungary with original houses and furnishings from the regions.

VISEGRÁD

Visegrád's Citadel used to guard the road running through the pass. Devastated during the Turkish occupation, its restoration is still ongoing. Having immersed yourself in the past, have some fun at the summer bobsleigh run by the Nagyvíllám Lookout Tower, made all the more exciting by eleven serpentine turns. After that, make sure to try the period dishes at the local medieval restaurant.

INFO

VÁC

The historic centre of Vác abounds in monuments and protected buildings. Don't miss Hungary's only triumphal arch, the Baroque bridge still in service, or the finds associated with the 'mummies of Vác', now preserved in the Trágor Ignác Museum. Take a rest from sightseeing in the Dessert Salon on Main Square, one of the country's finest confectioneries.

USEFUL INFORMATIONS

PUBLIC TRANSPORT (BKK)

With 268 bus, 32 tram, 15 trolleybus, and 4 underground lines, Budapest has one of the most comprehensive public transport systems among the capitals of Europe. It also includes cogwheel and commuter trains, a funicular, and boatand chairlift services. Daytime services are available between 4.30 am and 11.30 pm, while at night you can get around with night buses or Tram No. 6, which runs round the clock.

Further information: +36 (1) 325 5255; www.bkk.hu

TAXI

While several companies run taxis in the capital, all licensed cabs are yellow, have yellow licence plates, and are marked "Licensed Budapest taxi" on the driver's door. You have taken a licensed Budapest taxi if you can see the driver's photo ID and the table of fares on the dashboard and the insides of the passenger doors. All fares are licensed: the minimum fare is HUF 450, the standard fare is HUF 280 per kilometre, and there is a waiting charge of HUF 70 per minute. Cash and bank cards are both accepted. Make sure to get the receipt printed by the taximeter at the end of your journey so that you can check whether the licensed fares have been applied, and to ensure a swift remedy for whatever complaint you may have.

LOOKING AFTER YOUR VALUABLES

Never leave your luggage and valuables unattended. If you cannot immediately move into your room upon arrival, use a left-luggage office or a similar service at your hotel. At lidos or spas, use the changing cubicles and safe deposits. Be particularly mindful of your valuables in the street, in busy locations, shopping precincts, and public transport stops and vehicles. Avoid calling others' attention to the valuables on your person, such as your telephone, camera, cash and jewellery. Should persons in uniform in a public space demand you identify yourself and present your papers, make sure you are indeed talking to a public officer, and ask them to show you their photo ID and badge. Your personal data should be verified over the radio, so you need not, and should not, lose sight of your documents. In case of a theft or robbery, contact the nearest crime prevention centre of the police in the Castle or at Heroes' Square. If you become a victim, call the toll-free emergency numbers 112 or 107, or visit the website of the Budapest Police Headquarters: www.police.hu/brfk. Further help is available at <http://safetyinhungary.info>.

REGULATIONS ON SMOKING AND ALCOHOL CONSUMPTION

Tobacco products can only be purchased at licensed tobacconists, the "Nemzeti Dohánybolt." Smoking is forbidden in indoor public spaces such as bars, restaurants and pubs, and out of doors in the following cases: in public transport stops, and within five metres from the entrance of businesses and workplaces. Elsewhere, smoking is allowed at designated places only. Alcohol consumption is forbidden in public spaces. Persons under 18 years of age cannot be served alcohol, nor can they enter the tobacconists. Certain places of entertainment may also bar them from entering.

RESTAURANTS, BARS

Before you order, make sure you are familiar with the prices and service charges, which you can usually find on the menu and wine list. Tips are not obligatory, but if you choose to give, the customary rate is 10 per cent of the bill. Be wary of overfamiliar strangers or attractive women in the street who accost you and suggest a "good place," where you are expected to pay for their drinks – at extortionate prices.

BUDAPEST IN FIGURES

GENERAL INFORMATION

Official language:

Hungarian; English and German are the most frequently used second languages. Hungary has been a member of the European Union since 2004, and forms a boundary of the Schengen Area.

Official currency: forint (Ft or HUF).

Currency exchange tip:

Do not agree to change your currency to forint with strangers in the street. Use licensed bureaux de change instead, and make sure you get a receipt. For current mean exchange rates, visit the homepage of the central bank: www.mnb.hu

Telephone prefixes:

+36 (Hungary) 1 (Budapest) Budapest landline and mobile phone numbers have seven digits (plus area code, e.g. Budapest: +36 1 111 1111, mobile: +36 20/30/70 111 1111), other landline numbers have six digits (plus area code, e.g. +36 34 111 1111).

Climate:

four seasons, with July and August the hottest months (+25/+40 °C) and December and January the coldest (-4/-15 °C).

Time zone:

UTC + 1 hour; summer time (March–October): UTC + 2 hours

Bank holidays:

all Sundays, and public holidays (1 January, 15 March, Easter, 1 May, Whit Monday, 20 August, 23 October, 1 November, 25–26 December).

Customary opening hours:

offices: 8 am–4 pm, Mon–Fri;
banks: 8 am–5 pm Mon–Thu, 8 am–2 pm Fri;
central post office: 6th District (Pest), 51 Teréz körút (Tram No 4/6), 7 am–8 pm Mon–Fri, 7 am–6 pm Sat;
shops: 10 am–6 pm Mon–Fri, 10 am–2 pm Sat–Sun

Shopping tip:

Boutiques and shopping precincts keep open until the evening hours on Saturdays, but close in the early afternoon or do not even open on Sundays. Shopping on Sundays is most convenient at the shopping centres, which tend to be open 10 am–9 pm Mon–Sat, and 10 am–6 pm Sun.

Parking tip:

Budapest is divided into parking zones, and fees vary from one zone to the next. Find the parking meter closest to your car, and insert the necessary amount using coins that are marked as accepted. Display the slip behind the windshield. You may also purchase parking time by sending an SMS to the number displayed on the meter, but only Hungarian phone numbers can be used for the transaction. The paid parking hours can also vary over zones, though generally the 8 am – 8 pm period is paying, while weekends are free (with the exception of special zones, like Buda Castle). For short-term stops, coaches are recommended to use the car park behind Múcsarmok, or one of the P+R car parks near the major sights.
